MADE IN AMERICA

Want Washington to focus on jobs? So do we.

That's why we need you to join us on Thursday, October 21 for an evening of conversation, fellowship, and food to celebrate American manufacturing.

Next year, economic forecasters predict that America will lose its #1 global ranking in manufacturing for the first time in 110 years. That's right, China is projected to pass the U.S. in manufacturing in 2011. American manufacturing has already suffered its worst decade on record with more than 5 million jobs lost, skyrocketing trade deficits with China, 50,000 shuttered factories, and a drop in output. Our leaders in Washington need to understand that without manufacturing, there can be no economic recovery.

- Help us drive manufacturing jobs to the center of the public agenda.
- Ask your federal candidates what they propose to do to reduce unemployment, ensure that local manufacturing is competitive, and attract the factories of tomorrow.
- Find out what business, labor, and civic leaders have to say about policies to create jobs and strengthen our economy.
- Join a discussion of the opportunities for new workers in American manufacturing.

This town hall meeting is sponsored by the Alliance for American Manufacturing (AAM), a labor-business partnership determined to make American manufacturing and jobs the #1 priority.

This non-partisan event is free and open to the public, but an RSVP is required.
