★ ★ ★ ★ ★ FOR CONGRESS

April 4, 2011

To My Western North Carolina Friends:

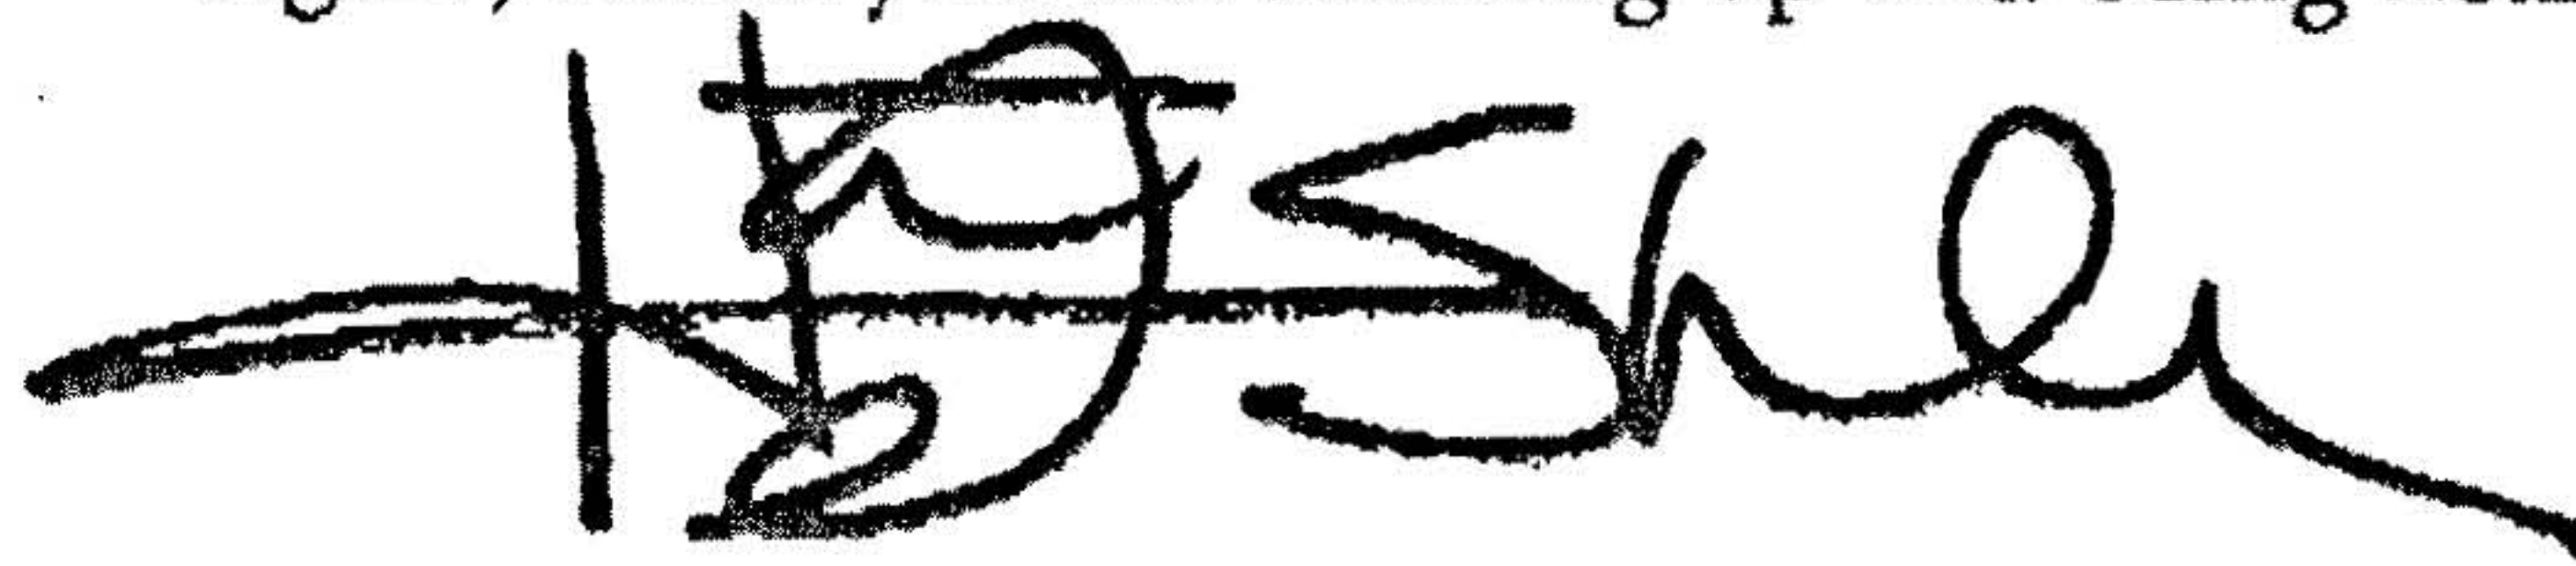

Thank you! Thank you for standing up with men, women, and children across our nation in defense of working families and the values of and rights that make our country great.

Over the last several months in statehouses across the country we have seen an assault on the basic rights that all workers share – the right to organize and collectively bargain.

But this attempt to infringe on the rights of all and undermined working families will not be successful because of you and your efforts. Men and women from all walks of life have joined together from Madison, Wisconsin to Columbus, Ohio, to right here in Asheville, North Carolina to stand up and speak out for the rights of all.

Through the years the right to organize has ensured that hardworking American families could live with dignity and create a better life for their children. It has led to better and safer working conditions for all Americans. And it has built a strong American middle class. Now, as we compete against workers across the globe, it is even more vital that we continue to stand up for workers here.

Again, thank you for standing up and being heard,

Heath Shuler
