

MillerCOORS Wants CAROLINA to LOSE

This Sunday all of North Carolina will be cheering for the Panthers to bring home our first Super Bowl victory. However, not everyone is supporting Carolina. MillerCoors intends to abandon North Carolina by shutting down its profitable, award-winning brewery in Eden, N.C. and destroying more than 500 good jobs in our state. The plant shutdown will devastate North Carolina families and rob our state of much-needed revenue. It will also eliminate more than 10 percent of MillerCoors' U.S. production capacity, likely leading to future price hikes for customers.
