

BOYCOTT TRUMP

The law says Mr. Trump must negotiate with his Las Vegas hotel workers who won a union election.

So that Mr. Trump honors his duty to bargain, UNITE HERE calls for a boycott of many businesses Mr. Trump owns, has invested in, or partnered with.

On March 21, 2016, Local Joint Executive Board of Las Vegas was certified as the collective bargaining agent on behalf of employees of the Trump Las Vegas International Hotel, co-owned by Donald J. Trump. The National Labor Relations Board affirmed that certification on July 28, 2016.

But Trump Las Vegas has refused to recognize and bargain with the union despite its duty under federal law to do so. We urge you to not patronize Trump-related businesses or Trump business partners until Trump Las Vegas complies with its obligation under federal law.

Thank you for supporting working people!

Celia Vargas

Housekeeper, Trump Hotel Las Vegas

“Stand in the fight with me...this Billionaire Bully Club is bad for the working class, bad for women, bad for immigrants, bad for business, and bad for America.”

Jeffrey Wise

Food Server, Trump Hotel Las Vegas

“We voted and won – now it's time for [Trump] to listen to us, the voters, and finally do the right thing by making a deal with his employees.”

Alma Zamarin

Food Server, Trump Hotel Las Vegas

“I'm not done fighting to make my workplace better – I will keep going until Donald Trump sits down and negotiates a good contract with their employees.”

Jeanette VanArsdale

Kitchen Worker, Trump Hotel Las Vegas

“I was unfairly suspended after exercising my protected union rights. I fought for the Union and the Union fought for me. I'm back at work now and my belief in the Union is strong.”
